Position Details

In this role, you will be responsible for the supervision, direction and control of land surveying services related to a variety of projects. Ideally, you are familiar with all aspects of oil field surveys. Critical skills include strong communication and organizational abilities with a customer focused approach to project management.

With the Labour Mobility arrangements in place, we encourage Land Surveyors of Alberta and Saskatchewan to view this as an opportunity to relocate and / or obtain a dual commission with the full support of Midwest Surveys' resources and diverse client base. We would also consider a Land Surveyor in Training nearing the end of their articling period for this position. This position has the potential to lead to an equity position within the company.
